WHY CHOOSE ST HELENS?

Six miles north of the River Mersey, 11 miles from Liverpool and 23 miles from Manchester lies St Helens, a commercially thriving town with its roots in mining and manufacturing.

Rapid expansion and population growth during the Industrial Revolution saw St Helens quickly develop from a small collection of houses to the large metropolitan borough it is today, with a population of 176,846. Coal, cotton, glass and linen were the leading exports back in the 18th and 19th centuries – and today the town continues to contribute significantly to UK industry.

The glass industry still employs over a thousand people in St Helens, with glass producer Pilkington’s dominating the town’s industrial quarter and producing all of the UK’s output of flat glass.

St Helens’ Ravenhead Retail Park is one of the top 10 largest of its kind in the UK, seeing a steady stream of investment and construction.

A flurry of post-Millennium urban regeneration included the creation of a brand new stadium for St Helens’ Rugby League side and the transformation of former industrial land for use as hotels, shopping complexes and housing developments.

Regeneration of St Helens’ George Street Quarter has seen an influx of new businesses to the town, including award-winning restaurants, all of which enjoy the town’s central North West location and fantastic motorway links to the M58, M62, M57 and M6.

St Helens also enjoys strong rail links to the rest of the UK via its £6.2 million Central Station, as well as close proximity to nearby Liverpool John Lennon Airport.
